The rise and rise of the internet

Most young people don't realise that the internet is a modern invention - after all, they don't remember a time without it. But it's still quite a new technology.

- 5 These days, more than three quarters of British adults use the internet every day. A very high percentage of adults (about 70%) use mobile phones, tablets and other similar devices to access the internet.
- 10 18- to 24-year-olds use the internet more than any other age group. The most popular activity is social networking, followed by downloading and playing games. Adults aged 25-34 use the internet more than other age
- 15 groups to buy things online. In fact, about 90% of people in this age group do some of their shopping in this way. They also use the internet more than other age groups for internet banking (70%) and for business
- 20 activities like selling products or services online (36%).

Some people never use the internet. Just over half are aged 75 years and over.

And what about the youngest age groups?

- 25 Well, school-age teenagers come second in the list of internet users after young adults. 93% of young teens now use the internet regularly, which is an increase of 20% in only five years. They mainly use it for social networking and
- 30 finding information for school.

So what's the most popular internet activity overall? It's email! It seems that we aren't worse at communicating with other people now, we just do it in a different way!
